LONDON, March 13.-Mr. Parnell made pub lic his long-expected manifesto to-day. The full text of the document follows:

HOUSE OF COMMONS, Friday, March 18. To the Irish People of America: To the Irish People of America:

FELLOW COUNTRYMEN—In 1880 and subsequent years you assisted me powerfully by your influence upon American public opinion and with your generous financial support to create the great movement of the Land League. Without your aid, so freely given and so constantly maintained, Ireland could not for one moment have made head against her oppressor. Still less could she have attained the singular position of power and the promise of success which she power and the promise of success which she has occupied during the last five years. At the instant when victory seemed near and certain, the hasty and meddlesome interferences of English politicians in the complete organization of our party, aided by a sudden movement among some young law a sudden movement among some young law students, eagerly seconded by a few mal-contents, office-seekers and envious persons who crept into our ranks, temporarily destroyed the unity of our forces and sapped the independence of many Irish representa-

It now becomes my task to restore this unity and reconstruct our movement, lopping off all unsound materials, taking effectual precautions against the admission in the future into our army of any weak, treacherous, self-seeking Fortune has unvelled this danger and given space for this reconstruction before the general elections, and the disclos-ure has brought about a realization of the inefficiency of Mr. Gladstone's proposed solution of the situation to secure legitimate solution of the situation to secure legitimate liberty, happiness and prosperity of your brothers and sisters in Ireland. This disclosure was timely and all important. The delegates, who, at my request, are now crossing the ocean to your shores, are well qualified with experience, ability and patriotism to fully explain and defend my position, which all that is and defend my position, which all that is sound, courageous and reliable at home have assumed with me at this crists. I commend them to your hospitality and am confident that you will extend to them the am confident that you will extend to them the most favorable reception and hearing. They are each and all well tried soldiers who have constantly distinguished themselves in our war against coercion and British misrule; who, despite intimidation and influences of the most unscrupilious and farreaching character, have bravely defended me during these dark and trying moments.

With a confidence greater than in 1880. With a confidence greater than in 1880, I appeal to you once more to assist me in quelling this mutiny and disloyalty to Ireland, to help me in securing a really inde-

FRENCH INFLUENCES IN UGANDA.

French influences are said to be at the bottom of hostility to British protection in Uganda. Late advices from the Protestant missionaries there state that the French Catholic missionaries have complete control of the situation and have taught the people that they ought to resist any attempt to impose British rule. The situation is a perplexing one for the British Foreign Office, as there is no Parliamentary support worth speaking of to sustain an effort to subdue Uganda, and any such attempt would evoke a powerful protest. It is probable, therefore, that nothing will be done, leaving it for the British in South Africa to assert their claims when requested by missionaries.

LIBERALS DISCONTENTED.

LONDON, March 18.—Discontent is growing among the English Liberals with the withdrawal from Parliament of a number of Irish drawal from Parliament of a number of Irish members who have given up their seats to engage in the Farnell-McCarthy controversy. The consequence of this desertion is that the Government secures much larger majorities on divisions than it otherwise would, and thereby maintains an appearance of strength before the country. The situation is deeply felt by Mr. Gladstone, who has, it is stated, expressed himself very plainly on the subject to Mr. Morley and others, and some prominent Liberals have declared it cannot fail to weaken the attachment of the English Liberals to the cause of home rule.

BANK OF ENGLAND MEETING.

LONDON, March 18.—At the semi-annual meeting of the Bank of England yesterday a dividend of 5% per cent was declared. Progress in the Baring Bros. matter was reported. The debts to the public have been reduced March 1 to £3,500,000 and, despite the fall in South American securities, there was apparently a sufficient surplus to protect the guarantors.

Affairs in Hayti Unsettled.

NEW YORK, March 13.—Letters from Hayti say there may yet be an insurrection at Portau-Prince, which will overthrow the Government of President Hyppolite. The President has had a good deal of trouble with his ministers, and he has changed them often, but he bunable to reconcile the warring factions or to pacify the malcontents. Hyppolite was received on board the American fagship Philadelphia again the last week in February by Admiral Gherardi, who has besides the fiag ship the Kearsarge, the Petrel and the Enterprise. They will all remain near Port-au-Prince until arrangements are complete for an American coasting station in Hayti.

LONDON, March 18.—Mr. Balfour, Chief Secretary for Ireland, asked a credit of $55.83 from the House of Commons for relief work in Ireland, and the credit was voted to him. Mr. Balfour said he had adopted all possible means to expedite the work of relief which otherwise could not have been begun before April or May. He spoke highly of the assistance rendered him by farmers, priest and landlords, which had saved the Government much expense. About 900 men are employed in the work and 40,000 people have been relieved. No statement of actual starvation is permitted to remain twenty-four hours in his possession without investigation. He had found much genuine destitution and many cases of misrepresentation. The total number of persons engaged in relief work up to Feb. 28, was 7,837. The total amount of wages that had been paid was $21,159. The Government is spending $3,000 weekly in wages.

The Storm in England.

LONDON, March 13 .- The steamship which was wrecked off Start Point, near Dartmouth, on Monday last during the see gale which swept over the thern part of England was the Mirama of Liverpool. When the steamer struck pon the reef off the point, the crew took to he boats in an effort to reach the shore, though the heavy sea prevailing and the huge breakers rolling upon the coast made such an attempt one of pure desperation. One of the boats containing the steamer's officers, was struck by a heavy sea and foundered and all the officers were drowned. The second at containing the sailors and firemen capsized twice and twice righted herself. Each time she went over a number of men were drowned, while others succeeded in re-enter-ing the boat, which was almost entirely filled with water, but kept affoat by reason of watertight compartments. Eventually four Swedish seamen managed to reach the shore, but one of them died from exhaustion soon after being hauled out of the surf. The three sur-vivors were terribly battered by the heavy sorf and were half dead when they were pulled out of the water.

A Great Fete at Munich

BERLIN, March 13.—The 70th birthday of Re gent Luitpold was celebrated at Munich with great enthusiasm on Thursday. The Regent received congratulations from the Empero William, the Emperor Francis Joseph and other European sovereigns. The plan to de-pose the insane King Otto and make Luitpold, who is heir apparent, the King of Bavaria, was not carried out, owing, it is stated, to last moment, and illustrates the the disapproval of the Kaiser, who did not peril attending such efforts. THE STREETER-TAURENEOR MANIFESTO.

Streeter and Taubeneck last night issued their manifesto to the F. M. B. A., attacking the course of Cockrell and Moore in voting for Palmer. The document failed to create even a ripple of excitement and was exceedingly stale and more of a defense of Streeter from the F. M. B. A. charges of having pledged his body and soul to be aptly described as a post-mortem effort of the old political "tiddledy-winks" to flop back into the Alliance fold from which he was flipped by the finger of "Long" Jones. The manifesto reviews at tiresome length the history of the senatorial fight and Streeter's ection with it, and contains little bu what has already been published time and time again. Its vital point is the assault made upon Moore and Cockrell for their re-volt from Streeter on Monday last and the attempt to impugn their political honesty by discrediting the published accounts of Cockrell's conference with Senator H. H. Evans in Chicago last Saturday. In that connection the manifesto contains tor H. H. Evans in Chicago last Saturday. In that connection the manifesto contains what is intended to be a startling card from Evans branding nearly the entire story as a fabrication, and stating that to his knowledge Streeter had made no pledges to the Republicans inconsistent with his integrity as an independent candidate.

Even that climax of the manifesto is second-hand news, for Tuesday, March 10, the day before Cockrell, and Moore voted to elect Gen. Palmer to the United States Senate, the POST-DISFATCH published an interview with Senator Evans, in which he denied the main points of the story of his Chicago conference with Cockrell, and stated that all he did was to ask Cockrell if, in the event of the 100 Republicans voting if, in the event of the 100 Republicans voting solid for Streeter, he, Cockrell, would vote to solid for Streeter, he, Cockrell, would vote to elect him. It was on that critical question that Cockrell, under pressure from his F. M. B. A. constituents, weakened, and it was Senator Evans' virtual offer to vote for Streeter if his vote would elect him, that precipitated the indedependent revolt of Monday. In the same interview Evans said that he had not promised to furnish Cockrell with proofs of Streeter's pledges to the Republicans, because "Cockrell knew just as well as he did just what pledges Streeter had given."

The "unspoken speech." of poor old Streeter, wherein he was to perform his unrivalled bareback act of riding the Republican and Independent horses simultaneously at the moment of his election to the United States Senate, comes in for considerable space in the graveyard wail of Streeter and Taubeneck. Its discussion however STREETER'S "UNSPOKEN SPEECH." space in the graveyard wall of Streeter and Taubeneck. Its discussion, however, simply shows that the great "strad-die" speech is largely responsible for the F. M. B. A. repudiation of Streeter at the last moment, and illustrates the political and Cockrell with their constituents. It is strangely lacking in the sensational element of the charges that Taubeneck threatened to bring against his two fellow-independents, and leaves Streeter and Taubeneck stranded high and dry on the compromise sandbarfrom which the former shouted his pledges to two conflicting parties at the same time. Taubeneck is claiming, in private conversation, that money was used toward the close of the Senatorial right, and that he was approached by Democrats with a request to name his price for voting for Paimer. The story is laughed at by all and receives no credence whatever.

crats with a request to name his price for voting for Palmer. The story is laughed at by all and receives no credence whatever.

Popular enthusiasm over Gen. Palmer's election continues unabated, and telegrams of congratulation poured in upon the old Democratic war-horse yesterday, while delegations of admirers from various points visited him to congratulate him in person. Among them was a delegation of East St. Louis business men, composed of W. J. Broderick, T. J. Daniel and A. L. Keechler, who last night presented Gen. Palmer, in the name of the live stock commission merchants of East St. Louis, with a handsome hat-rack, made of the polished horns of Texas cattle in a horse-shoe setting of heavy red plush. The presentation speech was made by W. J. Broderick and Senatorelect Palmer responded in a cordial expression of gratitude to the Democratis of East St. Louis and St. Clair County for their support, and to the merchants presenting the testimonial. Senator-elect Palmer spent yesterday at his home receiving the hundreds of callers. He has been forced to decline invitations to the Cook County banquet arranged for to-night, as also invitations to attend receptions at Milwaukee and Indianapolis, owing to the demand of his private business. He left for his farm near Cartinville to-day. Cockrell and Moore are threatening to issue a countermanifesto in reply to the death-chant of Streeter and Taubeneck.

VEST AND BLACKBURN DISPLEASED.

While the General was in command of the gross indignities. Blackburn's father was also arrested, and, it is said, the Kentucky

Senator has never forgiven Palmer.

Pretends to Be Angry. LOUISVILLE, Ky., March 13.-A reporter of the Evening Telegram attempted to interview Henry Watterson on the Hill letter. The ed-itor, who is suffering from an attack of the grip, was not in very good humor, and an-grily declared that he did not care to be in-terviewed. He pretended that he had not au-thorized any one to speak for him. The papers he said, were harping on the matter of his so-called explanation when he had made none. Regarding the Cleveland letter Mr. Watterson said:

Whatever I have at any time written to Mr. Cleveland is my affair, and whatever he has written to me at any time is his affair. The Hill matter got into the newspapers in a garbled shape without my knowledge or consent. I merely consented that the trath should be printed. By that, and that alone, I stand. In the meantime, I am engaged in no conspiracies and refuse to be put on exhibition for purposes of either news-vending or controversy. The hounds who are seeking it has me shall receive no assistance. I am hot a criminal—not even a candidate for office—and har committed no fault, unless it be a fault for a man to exercise his right of free speech as a citizen and a Democrat in the interest of his country and his party.

A Cleveland Movement.

New York, March 18 .- An evening paper New York, March is.—An evening paper, yesterday published a wild story to the effect that the Reform Club organization is being used to boom Gleveland and that a committee of 100 active county workers has been selected throughout this State for the purpose lected throughout this State for the purpose of working up sentiment for the ex-President. B. W. Holt of 52 William street, is said to be directing the movement. Cleveland's law office is located at the above number, and it is claimed by the originators of the story that Cleveland himself regards the movement with a favorable eye. In fact, it looks like an old scheme which Illden used to put in force right before the actual fight, that is of finding out just how matters stand, so that calculations could be made on straight information. Congressman John DeWitt Warner, who is said to be at the head of the movement, could not be seen last night.

Walthall Not a Candidate.

JACKSON, Miss., March 13.—Much to the sur-prise of his friends, and of politicians generally, Senator Walthall yesterday wrote a let-ter for the public, stating that he would not again be a candidate for United States Sena-tor. Mr. Walthall only says that his motive or retiring is purely personal.

"I shall enter into no employment how-ever attractive or however lucrative that will cause me to lose my citi-zenship. I am a Kansan, a Kan-sah I shall remain. I have received a great many offers of various kinds since my successor was elected, and have declined a great many offers of various kinds since my successor was elected, and have declined them all. But after a short respite I shall return to my own State and engage in some employment. As far as journalism is concerned, I have always been, you know, a quasi-newspaper man, and the newspaper men have always been my warm friends. But it is untrue that I am to attach myself to any newspaper in New York."

nurder trial was the center of interest yes

DENVER, Colo., March 18.—The Millington murder trial was the center of interest yesterday, and the court-room was crowded with an eager, curious throng. The first witness was charles Moor of the Fort Collins National Bank, who told of riding on the train with Mrs. Avery and Millington the Sunday after Avery's death. During the ride they discussed Avery's death, his insurance and their own marriage.

Verdie Cunningham, the maid, who was in Mrs. Avery's service at the time of Avery's death, told a racy story of Millington's visits and the relations between him and Mrs. Avery. She said Mrs. Avery always prepared Millington's meals when he called, but left those of Mr. Avery to the servants. Mrs. Avery had frequently changed her clothes and made her tollet in the presence of Millington and had time and again gone alone to his rooms and spent several hours at a time there.

Mrs. Frank Avery, sister-in-law of William Avery, testified, but said she did not believe that Mrs. Avery was instrumental in bringing about her husband's death. With Mrs. Avery's testimony the case closed for the day.

Terrible Disaster During the Bombardment of Port Coronel.

TWO HUNDRED PERSONS KILLED IN THE RAILROAD STATION.

Pierce Engagements Between the Govern ment Troops and the Rebel Forces-The Latter Defeated in a Bloody Battle at Pisaguay-Balmaceda's Family

NEW YORK, March 18.—Under date of Feb 12, the following advices have been received from Santiago, Chili:

A bloody battle has been fought at Pisaguay.
The rebels were defeated, however, having forty killed and thirty-four wounded. Their commander, Col. Salvador Vergader, was seriously wounded, but was carried away by his soldiers. The Governor continues to exile all persons who are in any way inclined toward the rebels. Both natives and foreign-ers are suffering. Several German and English merchants have been given thirty-six hours in which to leave the country hours in which to leave the country forever. A perfect surprise, to say the least, has been the decree of the Government expelling from the country the representative of a foreign nation—the Consul of Austria at Valparaiso. The Consul, it seems, was very much inclined toward the rebels, and in an unguarded moment stated his feelings and opinion of Balmaceda to a friend. The Government prisons are filled to overflowing with prisoners—not the secure of society, but with prisoners—not the scum of society, bu with revolutionists who are considere worthy of imprisonment by Balmaceda, wh is styled by the revolutionists "The Moder is styled by the revolutionists "The Medera Despot." Confiscation on a grand scale is being resorted to by the Government. Only last week the entire property of Don A. Edwards, the richest man in Ohili, was confiscated by the Government.

A TERRIBLE DISASTER.

The most terrible disaster took place at Port Coronel. It was about 8 o'clock in the after noon when the Esmeralda appeared in the harbor and demanded the surrender of the town. This was refused. A perfect shower of grape and canister was followed by solid shot. The people fied to the heights for safety, while some took refuge in the railroad station. The bombardment continued amid the shot. The people fied to the heights for safety, while some took refuge in the railroad station. The bombardment continued amid the screaming of women and children and the imprecations of men, when suddenly a shot struck the railroad station. This was followed by several others and before anybody could escape the roof and the next wall fell in, burrying over two hundred men, women and children in the ruins. The firing continued and this, added to the cries of the dying, caused the commander to surrender to the cruiser. As soon as word was sent to the cruiser the surgeons of the ship with a detachment of marines were sent to help clear up the wreck and lend assistance to the wounded. Sixty-seven dead bodies were taken out and about one hundred persons were more or less in-one hundred persons were more or less injured.

BLOCKADE OF VALPARAISO.

The blockade of Valparaiso is beginning to tell. Provisions are scarce and expensive, The two cruisers which are now blockading the port keep up an incessant vigilance and nothing can get in or out. A desultory fire is kept up which is far more fatal than a bombardment. The commandant of the city will try to dislodge the enemy by means of a midnight attack with torpedo boats of which the Government has several here. It is not probable that it will have good results, in view of the excessive vigilance kept up by the rebels and other strong cordons of lookouts. Gen. Urrutia, who commands the rebel army, has his headquarters on the Island of Santa Maria and has over 5,000 fully armed and disciplined men. These men, it is said, are being held until such time as an attack on Santiago may be feasible, when they will be used. The revolutionble, when they will be used. The revolution-ists also have large bodies of troops stationed at Pisaguay and Chanaral. Col. Annibal Naraujo, who was taken prisoner by the Rev-olutionists at the battle of Ovalle, was shot by them. The Government forces thereupon marshalled in all fifty revolutionary prisoners and put them to death.

STRENGTH OF THE ARMY.

The War Department to-day made public the strength of the army. The Government has now ready for the field 30,000 fully armed and equipped men. The army has been divided into seven sections, with the Minister of War as Commander-in-Chief. The greatest difficulty the Department has is the conveying of supplies and troops from one place to another. This is impossible by water as the rebel navy is in full control of the sea and constantly watches all craft which pass by.

The Government of Bolivia and the representatives of foreign powers are protesting against the compulsory service in the army. Foreigners have either one of two alternatives—to enlist either under the Government banner or leave the country within thirty-six have been arrested at Vaiparaiso. They are accused of abetting the revolution. They were brutally treated by the police. All the property of the following families has been confiscated: Borgono, Toros, Quadros, Danilas, Delanno, Riquelme, Velasco, Steban, Rivas, Scatto, Satamoryar, Veldeviso, Varella, Valedor and Barros Arano.

BISHOF FONTEVILLA'S INFRISONMENT.

The Roman Catholics are up and in arms at the imprisonment of Bishop Fontevilla. He is held on board the Bianco Encalada as a prisoner, and should saimada, the revolutionary chief, be shot he will meet with the same fate. The revolutionists have notified the Government that they will follow out the proverb of "An eye for an eye and a tooth for a tooth." If any of the rebels chiefs are shot all the prisoners of any prominence in the hands of the rebels will at once be executed. In view of the fact that all of the Chilian ships have gone over to the revolutionists and that it has no ships with which to operate, the Government has decided to purchase all the merchant vessels in the waters of Chili, if, after the necessary inspection, they are up to the required standard. Ships will also be bought at Buenos Ayres and Montevideo, if possible. In spits of the wholesale arrest of men and women by President Balmaceda, there is no doubt that a strong feeling of friendship toward the revolutionists exists in Santiago. A decree has been issued by the President prohibiting all persons from leaving the country without a passport.

BUENOS AYRES, March 13.—The family of Balmaceda are safe in the Argentine Republic. With an Officer.

J. F. Coqdal of Arkansas City, Kan., arrived in St. Louis this morning for the purpose of taking possession of the two negroes, George Brown and Joseph Ray, now in the custody of the St. Louis department.

It appears that Ray, who is but 19 years old, was indicted by the Crowley County, Kan., Grand-jury for the criminal assault upon the person of 12-year-old Minnie Delano. While held in the Arkansas City jail awaiting transportation to the county jail at Windeld, on the night of March 1 he made his escape. The following day it developed that a citizen had seen George Brown, another negro, at work with a crowbar digging at the foundation of the jail at the point where Ray escaped. A search was made for Brown, who, it was found, had also disappeared. Telegrams were sent to all important points. On the strength of the description received at police headquarters in this city. Officers Corceron and Lyons of description received at police headquarters in this city, Officers Coreoran and Lyons of the Central District on last Monday arrested Brown and Ray on Chestnut street near Eleventh. The negroes were at that time on the way to the United States Recruiting Office, half a block up the street for the purpose of enlisting in the regular army. Ray, when questioned, admitted his identity and told the story of his escape. He refused, however, to in any way implicate Brown in the matter. The Arkansas City authorities were notified of the arrest, and Coqdal, the Assistant County Attorney, was deputized to take the prisoners back. At Topeks it was found that the indictment was technically defective and Coqdal was forced to come on to St. Louis without results from appears. cally defective and Coqdal was forced to come on to St. Louis without requisition papers. He saw the prisoners in the Four Courts holdover this morning, but both men emphatically refused to go back of their own accord. Coqdal has telegraphed to Topeka and will probably remain in St. Louis until the proper papers are forwarded. Brown will be charged with a felony in aiding in the escape of a prisoner charged with a felony. Under the laws of Kansas he can be given a term of ten years in the penitentiary on conviction of

THE SOUTHERN FLOODS.

Many of the Levees Weakened-The Sunflower Break.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., March 13 .- Maj. J. F. Dab ney, Chief Engineer of the Levee Board of the district in which the new Robinson Levee, which gave way yesterday, is situated, was in the city last night, having come direct from the crevasse to Memphis. In conversa-tion he said to a reporter: "The break is 175 eet wide, and the water is running through it about 6 feet deep, or was when I left there. The levee was cut or blown up without doubt. It was one of the inest and most substantial in the district. It was built two years ago by the Government and the Levee Board jointly, and stood the long strain of last year without showing any evidences of weakening when the water was very near the top. On Wednesday it was was very near the top. On Wednesday it was intact. Contractor Vantilberger passed over it. At the time there was no suggestion of danger. The water was 4 feet below the top of the levee, and there was 34 feet of solid earth at the water line. In fact, the present stage of the water in front of the levees is such that no special precautions were considered necessary, and no apprehensions were felt. Thirty or forty laborers on a contract were turned loose without their pay recently, and they were heard to make threats of getting even. They said they would walk the levee until they "got even," to use their own language. It is surmised that some of these miscreants exploded a dynamite cartridge where it would do the damage. I do not apprehend much damage."

A SEVERE STORM.

A northerly wind and a cloudy sky constituted the weather yesterday until about 4 o'clock, when a fine, cold rain began to fall. By 6:30 o'clock the rain had changed to sleet and the ground was soon covered with an icy slush, About 10 o'clock it began snowing and a veritable blizzard set in, which kept up until 10 o'clock, when the snow ceased. No storm as severe as this has occurred for many years. ntact. Contractor Vantilberger passed over

THE INGENIOUS KICKER.

How He Finds Opportunities to Exercise the Great American Privilege. Kickers find some queer excuses sometimes for making complaints and many of them can be justly found in the management of the School Board's affairs, but now and then one is heard that is ridiculous enough to laugh at, The latest one is over the appropriation of $1,900 for repairs on the Shaw School and $300 for similar work on the Jefferson. The appropriations were made at the last meeting for similar work on the Jefferson. The appropriations were made at the last meeting of the board, and it has been rumored ever since that they were railroaded through, that they were extravagant and exorbitant, and that there was a job behind it. The board did pay more for the work than it would have cost ordinarily, but the circumstances justined it. A fire occurred at the Shaw School on Jan. 19, and four rooms were burned out. The cellar was burned, the furnace had to be reset, new floors and desks put in and a great deal of work done. President Miller and Secretary Player went out to the school, and as soon as they returned Mr. Miller gave orders that men should be sent out at once to do the repairing on time work. If he had waited to advertise for contracts the school would have been closed for three weeks or a month. He preferred to pay a little more and the school was reopened on Jan. 26. The case of the Jefferson School is similar. A fire burned a portion of the kindergarten on Jan. 20, and to save time the work was done without a contract. The board is out probably $400 or $500 on the two pieces of work, but the schools were closed one week instead of three or four. The most ingenious American is the American kicker, and he has had his say here.

CHAPLEAU'S REVOLT

The Secretary of State to Break With Sir John Macdonald.

A REPORT THAT HE WILL FORM A COA-

From the Canadian Premier-His Rival, Sir Hector Langevin-Goldwin Smith

on Lord Salisbury's Attitude-Tyler

MONTREAL, March 18 .- The most important MONTREAL, March is.—The most important political rumor of the day is that Hon. J. A. Chapleau, Secretary of State, is about to break with Sir John Macdonald and form a coalition government with Hon. Mr. Laurier and Hon. Mr. Mercier, Premier of Quebec. Mr. Chapleau is, next to Mr. Mercier, the most influential Frenchman in Canadian politics, yet he has always occupied the least influential position in the cabinet, while Sir most influential Frenchman in Canadian politics, yet he has always occupied the least influential position in the cabinet, while Sir Hector Langevin, Minister of Public Works, is recognized by Macdonald as leader of the French Canadian Conservative party. It is well known that for many years the most bitter rivalry has existed between the two French chiefs, and it was only smothered in the face of the common danger during the late elections. While Sir Hector Langevin has always been able to procure favors for h's friends from Sir John, Mr. Chapleau could get nothing and has always kept the cabinet in turmoil through his complainings. Mr. Chapleau several times has come to almost open war with Sir John. Once notably during the Riel rebellion, when he was compelled, despite his promise to his French compatriots that Riel would go free, to sign the latter's death warrant, as Secretary of State, and for this the French have since given him the title of the "Hangman." Mr. Chapleau kicked over the traces, too, at the time the Canadian Pacific subsidies were granted. In the last elections Mr. Chapleau was returned with a following of 15 in Quebec. In fact, it was his influence that saved the Province to Sir John. Sir Hector Langevin has only a following of four, so Mr. Chapleau, the time being opportune, has decided to come to a definite understanding with Sir John. To satisfy him it was agreed to divide Sir Hector Langevin's portfolio-and he was promised Knighthood on the coming Queen's birthday. Should Mr. Chapleau desert with his following, it would surely bring the downfall of the Government, and most strenuous efforts will be made by the conservatives to prevent him doing so.

A telegram was received from Sir John expressing regret that his indisposition prevented him from attending the Conservative demonstration here yesterday. He stated that he is meading slowly.

GOLDWIN SMITH'S LETTER.

TORONTO, March 13.—Goldwin Smith, in a letter to the Mail, says:

Now, we have Lord Salisbury, who, though he may be the head of a party in England, ought to represent the imperial Government impartially in his intercourse with the colonies, telegraphing his construction with the colonies, telegraphing his construction with the party by which the victory has been won. Lord Salisbury's act reveals, if anything was needed to reveal, the real position of his delegate, the Governor-General, in relation to our politics, and this explains His Excellency's conduct in granting an arbitrary dissolution of Parliament for party purpose of his Tory Government, warning us at the same time what we have to expect hereafter at the same hand.

TIERR REFLIES TO TUPPER.

A special cable dispatch from London to the Globe says: Sir Henry Tyler publishes a long and effective reply to Sir Charles Tupper's charges. A PECULIAR CASE.

A Damage Suit Followed by an Arrest for Murder.

Salt Lake Citt, Utah, March 13.—The arrest of John White, a brickmason who has been at work here since last August, has developed a rather peculiar case. The charge against White is murder, and his arrest was made on a requisition from the Governor of Wyoming. The alleged murder took place July 6, between Rawlings and Green River on the Union Pacific. White was beating his way on a train, and when it reached Rawlings it was discovered that Pat Taggart, a brakeman, was missing. A search was made, and Taggart's dead body was found further up the track. White was suspected, and the train hands proceeded to punish him. He was beaten in a horrible manner, and a rope was then slipped around his neck and attached to the car. He was then pushed off the train while it was moving, but by an almost superhuman effort he got his neck out of the noose and fell behind the caboese. He revived in a few seconds and took to the mountains. Five shots were fired at him, two of which took effect in his right leg. He was picked up and cared for by some miners until the officers found him a week or two later and placed him under arrest. He was discharged at his preliminary hearing, and soon afterward filed a suit against the Union Pacific for its, out damages in the United States Court in this City. White protests his innocence, and says his arrest is due to the effort of the company to defeat his suit.

THE PLACE GUARDED.

A DIVIDED VERDICT.

FINDING OF THE JURY IN THE HENNESSY MURDER CASE.

Politez and Monasterio Adjudged to Be Guilty.

A FAILURE TO AGREE AS TO BAGNETTO AND THE TWO MARCHESI.

Incardons and Matranga Acquitted-The Jury Out All Night and Half of To-Day -Fears That They Would Fail to Agree at All-Closing Scenes in the Great Trial.

New ORLEANS, La., March 13.—Charles Matranga and Sebastian Incardorna of the nine defendants were acquitted before the jury was sent out last night to deliberate on verdict for the slayers of Chief of Police lennessey. The jury had then to consider er or no the State sinely proved Joseph P. Antonio Scaffedi, Antonio Mar Manuel Politez, Pietro Monas terio and Antonio Bagnnetti guilty of murder. The State abandoned the prosecu-tion of Iacardorno (or Incardino) on account of insufficient evidence and the Court in structed for the acquital of Matranga.

The prosecution closed its case Thursday, and the evidence given at the close implicates Jos. P. Macheca, Scaffedi and the younge Macheca strongly. The latter is charged with having given the signal which brought on the

THE JURY DELIBERATING. The Juny deliberating.

The Hennessy jurors were locked up at 7:30 o'clock last night. Judge Baker did not think that they could arrive at a verdict promptly, and wanted to give them time to deliberate. Another reason advanced as to why the jury was locked up was that there was a large crowd gathered in the neighborhood, and that some violence might occur if the case went contrary to public sentiment. One of went contrary to public sentiment. One of jurors, Franchet, was sick last night he was prescribed for and this morning was better. It was naturally expected that a prompt verdict would come from the jury-room, but it did not, and it seems now instructions were issued not to allow the court officials as well as attorners on both sides were on hand promptly and everybody is waiting for the verdict. In order to guard against an outbreak instructions were issued not to allow the public to come into the court-room, and only years of the press, were admitted. Two messages have been sent to the fury-room, but the answer was returned each time that the jury was not ready to report. The prisoners jury was not ready to report. The prisoners were not brought to court. They were started from the prison, but when it was known that the jury could not agree they were returned. THE VERDICT.

Hennessy case jury has rendered the following verdict: Guilty as to Scaffedi, Politze and Monasterio; failed to agree as to Bagnetto, Marchesi, father and son, and Macheca. Acquitted—Incardona and Matranga, checa. Acquitted—Incardona and Matranga, Jos. Macheca's connection was proven conclusively. He was identified by four witnesses as the man who hired the shanty for the shoemaker, Monasterio. Behind this shanty the assassins, under Macheca, awaited the approach of their victim. Evidence was also given which showed conclusively that Macheca and the Police Chieftain were enemies and that he was in mortal fear of Hennessy. Antonio Scaffiedi, Antonio Marchesi, but not as much as if the prisoners had been in sight.

The police had been notified to have the scene of the shooting clear of any crowd, and the jury had been warned not to listen to any remarks on the outside. There was little necessity for the warning, and the ride was as quiet as any little airing the jurors might have taken as private citisens.

Capt. W. J. Barrett and Sergt. McCabe were in command of some thirty men distributed where they would do the most good. There were guards at the corners of Rampart, Basin and Franklin streets, on Girod street, and also at Julia and Lafayette streets on Basin street. No sightseers were allowed to pass, although the residences along the line kept open houses, so as to catch a glimpse of the sights. Chief Gaster, Police Commissioner Beanham and other interested parties were in the neighborhood, but kept aloof from the vicinity of the jurors and their companions.

The jurors halted their wagonette in front of Monasterio's shanty and took a good look at both sides of the street. The occupants of the other vehicles, except the prisoners, alighted and walked around inspecting the various points mentioned in the testimony. The marks were not opened at fill, and the prisoners only caught a narrow glimpse through the bars of the little round window in front of the wagons.

through the bars of the little round window in front of the wagons.

Girod street was quite bright while the procession made its way out. Even the arc light as far back as the cemetery was burning well. After the first carriage reached Baronne street the cemetery light went out. The Basin street light kept up nicely. There was no trouble in obtaining a distinct view of Monasterio's shanty, with the shed, the big gate and the little alley gate. The jurors asked to be drawn to the corner then, and as the wagon stopped right under the light it was VERY BRIGHT AROUND.

and a number of others, In front of the twostory brick house, at the opposite corner, sat Mrs. Ollvia Peterson and some friends. Their faces could be plainly distinguished and easily identified. Every detail of the upper portion of Mrs. Wheeler's house, the gallery running around the structure, the windows opening upon it, stood out distinctly. There was a girl on the gallery and lookers-on could tell from the ease with which they could see her features, how little trouble it was for her to single out anybody on the crossing. One of the jurors pointed up to the gallery, and they were evidently taking a careful view of everything around. It was deemed useless to carry the prisoners any further, and so the column was cut in two. The marias and the carry the prisoners any further, and so the column was cut in two. The marias and the force of policemen went down Franklin street to prison.

Politez had been allowed to sleep in court the night before in the hope of quieting his nerves, but the only effect was to make a few deputies miserable throughout the long hours. So last night he went to prison with the rest.

Judge, jury and lawyers proceeded up Franklin to Julia at the request of the defense, who desired to show the length of the block. It is a long one, and when the procession struck it, quite a dark one. About the only light in sight on Franklin street was the one at Julia, and that was concealed somewhere for the time being, making the drivers cautious in picking a path. As the vehicles neared the corner the light loomed up again, the road became visible and there was no further trouble. There is a grocery and saloon at the corner of Franklin and Julia, and some men rushed to the door as the jury moved by. One of them shouted: "There they are. Say, find those dagos not guilty, will you?"

The face of the speaker could not be singled out, and there was no means of telling if the man spoke in jest or in earnest.

The jury was driven back to the court, locked up for the night in presence of both sides, and the whole trip was over before 9 o'clock.

The grocers and saloon-keepers in the neighborhood have, on counting up their cash in the evening, frequently found lead nickels in their tills. Michael Schwab, a saloon keeper on O'Fallon, between Tenth and Eleventh streets, found a lead 5-cent plece in his cash-drawer every evening for two weeks, and he could not tell how it got there until he noticed the coin Jones gave Charles Matranga. Autonio Marches.

Manuel Polites, Pietro Monasterio and Antonio Bagnnetto were positively i dentified as the men who did the shooting. This is what the prosecution claimed at the outset that they would prove, although in addition it was claimed that it would be proven that it was an organized conspiracy.

THE DEPENSE.

The principal testimony for the defense was good character of three of the defendants. Polite' mistress testified that he was at thome with her the night of the killing. Peeter, a witness for the prosecution, who identified the elder Macheca and Scaffed as materially and the property of the marder, and groggy the next day. An attempt was also made to prove an allbi for Bagnacto, one witness testified that he was said to the marder. The jury was taken to see the scene of the morning of the murder. The jury was taken to see the scene of the murder, on Girod street, near Basin, before the arguments were begun. The miners are in destitute condition and the families of many of them are suffering for the necessities of life. They made no attempt to conceal their indentity, but said they had to steal or starve. Active measures are being taken to inquire into the wants of the people and relieve the suffering.

Mill Ofris On A Strike.

New York, March 18.—Ball's Hall, in Kearney, N. J., was crowded with mill girls from both sides of the Passaic River last night. They came in response to a circular issued by the 600 locked-out girls in Mill No. 3 of the Clark Thread Works. This document was a bitter attack on the non-union spinners, related how the girls of Mill No. 3, after having worked all winter for half wages, were turned out, said that non-unionists would soon replace the girls in the other mills, and called on their sister workers to aid them. These circulars were distributed religiously and scarcely a working girl but received one of them. As a result they came by the hundreds to Ball's Hall, last night. Reporters were excluded from the meeting. Miss Ida Van Etten of the New York Working Women's Society made an address. She advised the girls if no other alternative was offered to ston work on Monday morning. Fight com-Society made an address. She advised the girls if no other alternative was offered to stop work on Monday morning. Eight committees were appointed and they will report on Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock. Miss Van Etten said after the meeting that unless some unforeseen circumstance arose the 1,000 girls in the mills would be exdered out on strike.

RACINE, Wis., March 18.—The trunk-makers' strike which has been in progress at Secor & Co.'s factory for two weeks, nearly culminated in a riot last evening. Thirty or forty union men congregated at the corner of Main and Fourth streets and waited for the employes at Secor's factory to come out. The Secor men armed themselves with knives and other weapons, and Mr. Secor appeared armed with two revolvers and threatened to kill the first man who interfered with his men. The Chief of Police and four of his men were summoned and dispersed the crowd of unionists, but on Main street bridge Frank Pavaka was assaulted and beaten by a crowd of twenty. Officers came to his rescue and arrested two unionists.

Judge T. M. Cooley's Plans Concerning the Uniform Bill of Lading. This morning George H. Morgan, Secretary of the Merchants' Exchange, received a let-ter from Judge T. M. Cooley of the Interstate ter from Judge T. M. Cooley of the Interstate Commerce Commission in reply to a communication delivered to him in behalf of the Merchants' Exchange in reference to the question of a uniform bill of inding for railroads. The Merchants' Exchange requested that as the shippers and the railroad officials had been unable to come to an agreement the Interstate Commerce Commission draft a bill that would be fair to both parties. Judge Cooley replied that the question could not be determined without mature deliberation, and without giving both sides an opportunity of being heard. He stated that the Interstate Commerce Commission would probably issue a call for a meeting of both interests, at which the matter could be fully discussed.

publican Primary Elections To-Day and the Covention To-Morrow-Some of the Candidates for the Lower House of the assembly-Trouble in the Fourteentl Ward Democratic Camp-Political Mat-

The Independent movement is going into court to claim, under the Australian law, the right to a distinctive place on the ballot and the right to have its candidates grouped under the head, "Independent Municipal Ticket." Recorder Carlisle has taken th position that only parties can have a separate place, with the party name over the names of candidates who have been nominated by convention, and all other candidates must be grouped under a head, "Nominated by

Mr. Carlisle said that was his opinion and it would remain so until arguments were presented to him to show him that he was wrong. The courts will therefore be applied to to interpret the law and declare whether the electors are by the statute forbidden to have a separate place or whether under the law which was adopted as a protection to the honest voters the parties are to have an ad

A STRONG ARGUMENT.

The men who are interested in the Independent movement are confident in the belief that since they have taken every step necessary to give their nominees a place upon the official ballot, they have a right to expect that the six names of that ticket will be grouped under a distinctive heading just as the nominees of the Democrat or Republican narty. They exceed that it was the spirit grouped under a distinctive heading just as the nominees of the Democrat or Republican party. They arguel that it was the spirit and intention of the Australian law to enable a prescribed number of citizens, under reasonable safeguards as to sincerity, to place candidates of their choice before the people; and that it would be contrary to that spirit to deny them the same conspicuity and the same certainty of distinction that is given other nominees. Suppose, they argue, that twelve or fifteen thousand voters unite in naming candidates for Judges of the Circuit Court, and file their certificate of nomination at the same time that a Democratic or Republican convention, representing only half as many voters, presents the names of its chosen candidates. Would there be any justice in giving the convention nominess a distinctive place on the ballot, under a headline descriptive of the ballot, under a headline descriptive of the party, while denying to the 15,000 voters, who were not in convention, the right to have their candidates grouped under a caption of Believing that there could be no reasonable ground for the latter position, a number of the active advocates of the Independent ticket requested Mr. F. R. O'Nell to wait upon Recorder Carlisle and to take whatever steps might be found necessary to give the Inde-pendents a representation on the ballot of advantage equal to that given any other or-ganization.

MR. CARLISLE'S POSITION.

MR. O'Neil waited upon Mr. Carlisle this morning, and the Recorder stated that while he was determined to be absolutely impartial in the performance of all his duties, he felt that he must be governed by the precedent already established by Recorder Williams, who had determined that all nominees other than those chosen by party conventions must be classed under the common and general head of "Nominated by party conventions must be classed under the common and general head of "Nominated by Electors." Mr. Carlisle said further, however, that he would be giad to have a judicial interpretation of the law on this point and readily accepted the proposition that an agreed case be at once made up and submitted to any security of conventions that the same court of the same court of conventions that the same court of the sa agreed case be at once made up and submit-ted to any court of competent jurisdiction. If such a case were instituted, he said, he would make no effort at delay, and would make prompt answer to the petition. Ac-cordingly papers are now in process of prepa-ration, and an agreed case will probably be instituted to-morrow morning.

Mr. O'Neil said this morning that the test case would be taken into the Court of Appeals if that court had jurisdiction, a point about which there is some doubt. As Recordabout which there is some doubt. As accord-er Cartisle does not intend to appeal in case of an adverse decision the Independents will appeal to the highest local court they can reach. If the Court of Appeals has no juris-diction the Circuit Court certainly has. FRANTIC EFFORTS TO OBSTRUCT.

The Republicans are saying that the Inde-pendent movement is dead, but they are fighting it at every turn. They will apply to Becorder Carlisle for an opinion that no name can be on the ballot twice, and if a candidate is on the Independent ticket fie cannot appear on the ballot also as a Republican nominee. The proposition is a foolish one, particularly so in view of the fact that last fall they paid the Union Labor control indexes some of their condidates. party to indorse some of their candidates whose names appeared on the ballot twice, and under both headings, but one wing of the Republican party recognizes that its only chance to elect any Councilmen is to nominate the Independent Republicans, and the other wing oppendent he positions, and the other wing op-poses the nomination of any independents at all. The leaders of the latter section want the opinion from the Recorder to spring it in convention to-morrow as a reason why the independents should not be nominated. This is an example of the manner in which the old is an example of the manner in which the old parties are working, trying to use the Recorder to embarrass the Independents. And while this is going on the Union Labor leaders are contemplating the nomination of six Councilmen. The parties are encouraging them, because if the Independents are denied a head they would like to have other independents to go under the heading, "Nominated by Electors," thinking that so many names under the one head would cause confusion to the voters. The Union Labor place on the ticket was offered to the Independents, the proposition being that if the Recorder refused the Independents a place a Union Labor convention would be called and the Independent candidates would be nominated. The offer was declined with thanks.

GENTLEMEN—The nomination for the City Council with which you have bonored me is significant for the form in which it is presented and for the platform which it announces.

To quarrel with the manner in which qualified voters have chosen to make their nominations would be to reverse the natural order of things, particularly when the method adopted has the especial sanction of the latest election laws.

The platform as I anderstand it, simply expresses the conviction that in municipal affairs national party controversies have no place. The proposition seems self-evident; and no sufficient reason has been assigned why a clearly recognized principle of city government should not find practical expression in its modification for the self-evident supplements the conclusion that those who so readily condemn your departure as not practicable are guilty of underestimating both the intelligence and the patricism of the people at large.

And, in any event, if the bare endeavor to practically do in city affairs what in principle is admitted to be correct is to be taken and punished as an offense against pational party supremacy, then, in my judgment, that in itself presents an issue which cannot be too charply defined or too soon determined. Persuaded of the correctness of this position, and satisfied that more than ever it is the duty of every citizen to be prepared to serve, I feel compelled to accept your nomination. The primary election in the Twelfth Ward closes at 7 o'clock this evening. The polls are before the time fixed for the opening there was a crowd waiting to vote. The contest for the nomination in this ward is between Delegate Louis C. Diekman, who has made a creditable record in the House, and Charles A. Gitchell has made arrangements to resort to every trick possible to steal the nomination, but the people in the ward who are familiar with his game declared early to-day that they would be on hand to checkmate him.

HOW HENRY KUHNE LOST HIS LIFE IN THE MISSOURI RIVER.

He Was Rowing Across the Stream With

News of a mysterious and probably fatal ccurrence was received in this city to-day from St. Charles. Among the residents of St. Charles is numbered a young man by the man, Henry Kuhne by name, has been visiting the town. Kuhne is a resident of St. Louis, but has relatives in St. Charles, The committeeman.

"Who's going to pay it?" he was asked.

"If we can't get the money elsewhere I guess we will have to dive down in our own clothes for it."

Another committeeman then volunteered the information that nearly enough had been subscribed by well-to-do Republicans to pay all the expenses of the primary and convention.

Louis, but has relatives in St. Charles. The two young men struck up quite a friendship, and have for some time past been intimate. This morning at about 8:30 they set out together to cross the Missouri. They obtained a skiff for this purpose and Hutchinson took the cars. The river was not particularly high, nor the current unusually swift and no danger current unusually swift and no danger was apprehended. Several people saw the two young men take their departure was apprehended. Several people saw the two young men take their departure from the north side of the river, but as it happened no one watched the boat during its passage. When it arrived on the south bank it was seen with surprise that the skiff that had started with the two men on board had but one. Hutchinson was at the oars, but Kuhne was nowhere to be seen. Inquiries were at once made of Hutchinson as to what had become of his companion, and he told the following remarkable story: He said that he was rowing rapidly across the river and was paying little attention to his companion. When near midstream he chanced to look up and to his terror and surprise saw Kuhne in the act of slipping over the side into the river. Before he could make a movement to check him he had disappeared beneath the water. Hutchinson rowed about waiting for his companion to reappear, and prepared to render him assistance in climbing back to the boat. But although he watched closely no sign of Kuhne was seen, and after some time spent in rowing about the spot where he had dropped into the water, he turned his boat toward the shore to ask for assistance. A search party was at once organized and a careful lookout was kept in all directions, but nothing was discovered. Parties are still engaged in searching for the body. Hutchinson and Kuhne were apparently on excellent terms, and there had been, as far as is known, no quarrel between them.

Mr. Sylvester Garneau was at St. Charles at the time of the accident. In reference to it he said: "I only know what I heard. The story is that Hutchinson and Kuhne started together across the Missouri in a skiff. Hutchinson was rowing, and Kuhne was seated in the stern. On the arrival of the boat on the south side of the river, Hutchinson was the only passenger, Kuhne having disappeared. Hutchinson said that when they were crossing, Kuhne slipped over the side and disappeared. He rowed to and fro, expecting him to rise, but never saw trace of him. The young men were apparently on perfectly friendly terms."

An Indianapolis Lady Driven to Suicid by Her Husband's Brutality.

Indianapolis, Ind., March 18.—Last October Kate Weaver, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Weaver, prominent people of this city, married Lemon E. Rhinehold, a young lawyer with a good practice. Mrs. Rhinehold was a handsome brunette, accomplished, and a great favorite with all. They settled in their own cosy home on Bellefontaine street and life seemed full of promise for the young couple. Lately, however, the neighbors have shaken their heads ominously and intimated that all was not well with the couple. At 10 o'clock last night pedestrians passing the Rhinehold house heard a pistol shot within. An entrance was forced, and Mrs. Rhinehold was found dying from a wound in the breast—she had taken her own life while alone in her home. The following letter, written by her just oefore firing the fatal shot, reached the Indianapolis News this morning:

EUROPE UNEASY.

The world is beginning to regard the young German Emperor as the enfant terrible of the European situation. Such power as he wields is a dangerous thing in the hands of a rash and headstrong, not to say conceited, young man. The anxious continent has detected symptoms of giddiand signs of vacillation in his impulses.

According to common report HENRY VIII. was not more variable in his moods in dealing with his wives than Emperor WILLIAM in dealing with his Imperial Cabinet, and the spectacle of BISMARCK, VON CAPRIVI, VON WALDERSEE and other German dignitaries of worldwide fame handled by him as if were so many nursery toys, to-day in high favor, to-morrow cast aside, and next day restored to favor again, is not reassuring. It impresses trembling nations with an idea that he may at any moment begin playing the role of the bull in the china shop.

WOOLSEY's description of the agonies of ourtiers who hang on Princes' favors applies to nations dependent on the moods of uch a monarch for the peace of a contient. It is a lesson for us. The civil wars and revolutions so common in some of our American Republics do not embroil or disturb their neighbors much, and, deplorable as they are, they must be set down as minor evils compared with the kind of 'order' monarchy imposes on Europe.

THE people of the State outside of St. Louis are not at all interested in the underground wire bill now before the State Senate. Its adoption or rejection will not affect them in the slightest degree. The contest over the bill is confined to the electric light and power companies and the citizens of St. Louis. It is clearly the duty, therefore, of Senators from the State outside of St. Louis to consult the interests of the people of this city with respect to the bill, and govern their action accordingly. These interests demand the adoption of the bill as a means of protection to life and property from the multiplication of dangerous overhead wires.

ANOTHER great European banking establishment, the Societe des Depots de Comptes Courantes of Paris, has had to appeal for aid to avoid ruin. The experience of London and Paris during the past few months has removed all occasion for pride in the superior methods of European financiers over those of this country. The financiers of this country have been accused of lack of conservatism, but they would hardly engage in the wild specula tion which has characterized the recent operations of the money kings of Europe

The wisdom of this conclusion should commend itself to other French pretenders.

An Ordinance Governing Dirt Wagons, In the Council this evening Mr. Rohan will introduce an ordinance governing dirt wagevident to everyone and has become more so evident to everyone and has become more so since the immense quantity of building along the paved streets has been commenced. The wagons are now loaded beyond their capacity and are constantly leaving a trail of mud and dirt along the streets they pass over. The ordinance specifies that all wagon beds shall have dimensions of 6 feet by 8 feet by 21 inches and shall not be loaded above the level of the sides. A violation of the ordinance is declared a misdemeanor.

Bioyelers Shown Consideration. Some time ago all the bicycle clubs and nany of the unattached riders in the city sent a petition and a committee to the Street Department to have the hours of sprinkling the asphaltum streets changed. They as-serted that there was too much water put on these streets, making them so very slippery that it was absolutely unsafe for riding. The matter was taken under consideration, and to-day Supt. Johnson of the Sprinkling De partment was instructed to have the streets in question sprinkled once a day and at such in hour as would be most convenient to all.

To-night in the Council there will be two bills come up in the regular order of business, which will be opposed and supported ness, which will be opposed and supported strongly by a large number of interested per-sons. One is the ordinance for the Mer-chants' Terminal Depot, on Broadway and O'Fallon street. The bill gives the road per-mission to cross Third street into the old round-top market and convert it into a de-pot. There has been some very bitter oppo-sition, which has been stubbornly main-tained. The probabilities are that the ordi-nance will pass. Along with the depot bill

New Improvements

In addition to the hearing advertised fo the 20th, in which some sixty projects for the improvement of streets and alleys are included, Commissioner Murphy will at once commence making estimates and plats for s commence making estimates and plats for a new hearing within the next sixty days. There are nearly 200 petitions now on file in the office of the Street Department, com-mencing with petition number 4,219 for the grading of Blair avenue. These will be taken in consecutive order and considered as rap-idly as they can be reached. Over 200 peti-tions have been disposed of in the past year, a larger number than during any previous year since the adoption of the scheme and charter.

Reconstruction Ordinances Filed. The ordinances that were recently filed by the House of Delegates Committee on Public the House of Delegates Committee on Public Improvements were those providing for the improvement of Matasine street, Bell avenue, Westminster place, Fark avenue from Eleventh to St. Ange, and Park avenue from St. Ange to Second Carondelet avenue. The action of the committee in recommending that those bills be filed will compell the Street Department and the Board of Public Improvements to go all over the work that was done preliminary to preparing the bills for the improvement of the streets named above. Nothing further can be done in this direction until new petitions are presented by property owners and a new hearing advertised by the board. This will delay the work until next year.

Granite Repairs.

Granite Repairs.

Some portions of the granite streets that were first constructed with that material begin to show signs of impairment and Commissioner Murphy has instructed the division of his department having charge of the repairs to examine the granite district thoroughly and make a report of the portions that need renewal or repairing. The maintenance of the granite streets has cost the city a comparatively small amount heretofore, but the heavy traffic on some of the principal roadways is beginning to tell on the material and it is probable that more will have to be expended during this year in bringing the streets up to a good condition than has been used for several years past. There is no doubt that granite is the best and cheapest material that has been found for streets used for heavy hauling.

The Street Department at the request of the property owners on Forest Park boulevard has thoroughfares, and the money was wisely invested, as the advance in values repaid the contributors many times over. The city, too, will be benefited by the increased assessment of property along the boulevard.

Repairing Floriscent Avenue ssioner Murphy to-day gave Commissioner Murphy to-day gave instructions to have Florissant avenue thoroughly overhauled and repaired with macadam and gravel from Grand avenue to the cameteries. A large force of men and carts will be placed at work in a day or two to clean and prepare the roadbed for the new material. It is possible that Granite macadam may be used on a portion of the route. It is one of the most constantly used thorough fare in the city and the class of vehicles driving over it, deserves more than usual driving over it, deserves more than usual consideration and the Street Department will hereafter pay special attention to keep-ingt he drivway in good condition.

BOMANTIC FAMILY REUNION.

How a Lady in St. Paul Found Her Cousing the Mayor of Russellville.

A union of relatives who have never met before will soon take place in Russellville, near Pine Bluff, Ark., and the meeting, besides its romantic features, is another illustration of the efficacy of making wants known in the public press. The parties are Mrs. Wm. N. Richardson of St. Paul, Minn., and Mr. Thomas Russell, Mayor of Russellville, Ark., and his three brothers. Mrs. Richardson was born in West Virginia and moved to Chicago many years ago with her father and mother. She grew up, was married and her father and mother died. Her father and mother died. Her father and mother died. Her father had no relatives and her mother had but one sister. This sister married a Dr. Russell, who was prominent in his profession in this city before the war. Mrs. Richardson's husband was a merchant in Chicago, and died about fifteen years ago, leaving his wife and three children and but little means te support them. Mrs. Richardson obtained a position in Chicago, but moved to St. Paul some years ago, and has held a prominent position in the State Insurance Department several years. She has always longed to hear something of her relatives, her aunt and the Dr. Russell whom she married. During the past two years she wrote many letters to her friends and acquaintances in an attempt to trace them. Being unable to secure any information in that way she wrote to Postmaster Harlow about two months ago and asked if he could help her. The letter was turned over to Mr. Isaac N. Sturgeon, Assistant Postmaster, and on reading it he immediately took a deep interest in the case. He wrote letters to a number of the old doctors here and made personal inquiry for "Dr. Russell had been a partner of Dr. John Shore, and that gentleman said he thought Sam Rcker of El Paso, Tex., could tell something of the man wanted. these Mrs. Richardson was almost discouraged until Mr. Sturgeon again suggested that a notice be printed in the Posr-Disparon. An item appeared stating that Mrs. Richardson was in search of information concerning a Dr. Russell. About one week after the publication Mrs. Richardson received a letter from Thomas Russell, Mayor, Russellville, Ark., saying that his father formerly lived in this city and that perhaps he was her coustn. She answered the letter, expressing the same belief, and in return he asked her to establish her identity by relating some occurrence in the life of Dr. by relating some occurrence in the life of Dr. Russell. This she did by telling him of a famous murder trial his father was called into before he left St. Louis, and this convinced Mr. Russell that the lady was his relative. A brisk correspondence has been kept up since then and the family are now very well ac-quainted. Mrs. Richardson has learned that instead of being alone in the world she has four cousins, Mr. Russell, the Mayor, and his three brothers, all well-to-do and prosperous.
The father founded the little town in which

PITTSBURG, Pa., March 13.—Mrs. Sarah Wilkinson yesterday cowhided Wm. Maxwell, her husband's brother-in-law, until the blood flowed from his face and neck. The cause was peculiar. Maxwell met an old sweetheart of Wilkinson's and he told Wilkinson about her. She then wrote to Wilkinson that her husband was absent for two weeks at a time and that she grew very lonesome at times. So Wilkinson decided to go and console his old sweetheart. He borrowed $150 from his wife and, after asking her to send his other trousers to the tailors', left. As he reached the depot he remembered that the letter from the other woman was in the pocket of the very trousers

The table was handsomely and profusely decorated with the rarest cut flowers, and upon the peak of every fleecy napkin was a snow white rosebud for a bouttonniere.

It is estimated that the desired changes will necessitate an outlay of $750,000. Now that the money has been provided no delay will be permitted to prevent the completion of the work at the earliest possible day. It is intended to have the locomotive division of the route ready for operation by electricity in June. Money is now being used in the purchase of ground for a power plant, options having been secured on several parcels of land at De Hodlamont station for that purpose some time ago; fast as these options expire the land is paid for in cash. Contracts are now practically closed for the electric equipment. Bids have been received for other material, rails, ites, etc., and are to be let, together with the grading contract, in a few days.

era Arrested in Washington, D. C.

The two young men arrested in Washington Tuesday for victimizing ticket brokers are not known here, though it is believed they were in the city ten or twelve days ago. It is stated in the Washington telegram that the men registered at a hotel there as Charles Morris and John Simpson, but that from information afterward obtained concerning them their real names are believed to be Henry David and John Frisby. They are believed to have defrauded ticket brokers from Denver to Washington. On Monday the man whose correct name is believed to be David is alleged to have obtained tickets to the West from three different brokers and also cash on fraudulent printed and stamped orders purporting to be printed and stamped orders purporting to be from Ben Wasserman, St. Louis. It is said that by means of these bogus orders the men obtained $52 in cash, three tickets to Cincinnati and two 1,000-mile tickets. NEW YORK, March 13 .- A small crowd stood watching two men cutting the electric wire attached to a pole at the intersect Catherine street and East Broadway yesterday. It was raining steadily at the time, but the men worked just as steadily, and the spectators who had no umbrellas lounged in the doorways or hallways. The men were fully equipped with the iron spurs usually worn by linemen. They climbed up the pole with as much composure as a sailor scales the sky sail yards. Wire after wire was deftly cut by one or the other of the men and they began their descent. A block away, standing behind a showcase outside a furnishing store, was Policeman Hurley. He swung his stick behind a showcase outside a furnishing store, was Policeman Hurley. He swung his stick in an absent-minded manner and never turned his face to the men up the pole. But from the corner of his ava he was the store of his ava he was the was the store of his ava he was the was turned his face to the men up the pole. But from the corner of his eye he watched their movements closely. The men worked like experts, but the officer was suspicious. He and his comrade had been instructed to look out for wire patchers. Ever since Mayor Grant ordered the wires under ground the various companies have complained they were being systematically robbed. When Hurley saw the two men descend and begin to coil the wire in snug coils, he emerged from the house and sauntered up. The companies provide their linemen with badges and Hurley asked the two men to show theirs. They laughed and wiped up. The companies provide their linemen with badges and Hurley asked the two men to show theirs. They laughed and wiped the beads of perspiration from their brows and the drops of rain from the peaks of their caps. They said, "That's all right." The policeman was not so sure and insisted on seeing the badges. The men said they had left them pinned to their overcoats in a saloon before they climbed the pole. They wanted to go for the badges, but Hurley wanted to go for the badges, but Hurley wanted to take them to the station. They gave their names as Archire Paricedes, aged 28, of Brooklyn. They said they worked for the Western Union. Sergt. Burns thought they were rather young to be linemen and sent an officer over to the Brush Electric Light Co. plant. He learned that the wires on Catherine street and East Broadway were owned by the United Electric Light & Power Co. The officer telephoned to the United company's office and Supt. Helly hurried to the police station. He was shown the spurs and pincers used by the two prisoners. He said they were too new for any of his men. Paricedes and Meahr were brought from their cells, but Kelly had never seen them before. He said that within two months his company had lost $9,000 worth of wire. Sergt. Burns sent the prisoners to Essex Market and had them remanded until to-day in order to secure complete evidence against them.

The New Building to Be Erected on a Lot Abutting Page Avenue and the Nar-row-Gauge Road-One Old Asylum to Be Sold.

The Board of Directors of the Orphan Aid Society mot at 516th Chastnut street yesterday afternoon and definitely decided to erect the new Catholic orphan asylum at Fage avenue and the Nastow-Gauge tracks. The cost of the building will not be less than $90,000, and will most probably reach the sum total of $100,000. Very Rev. Ph. P. Brady, V. G., presided, and the Sanstars Page Parkers V. McCabe, was in attendance. There were of a few absentees. It was the most import meeting that has been held for some til The new structure will be constructed of grand scale, and will occupy the ground rused by a temporary structure, which is us a branch of St. Mary's Asylum for orpigirls at Tenth and Biddle streets.

girls at Tenth and Biddle streets.

ARE THOROUGHLY IN RANNEST.

The Aid Society is thoroughly in earnest, and will make an organized endeavor to raise the necessary funds at the earliest possible moment, so that they may be enabled to push the matter to rapid completion. Collectors have already been engaged, and began their work bright and early this morning. It will be a week before reports from these will begin to come in, but at the end of that time the society expects to hear of results that will fully justify their high anticipations. The first of next week architects will be asked to prepare plans for the new structure, and it is expected that within a month from this date work will be commenced on a structure course.

The annual report of the Orphan Aid Society will be ready within a few days and will show quite an increase in the amounts subscribed by the various parishes at the semi-annual collections. Last year the sum of $10,820 was raised in this way. The outside subscriptions have also been larger, and with this encouraging outlook there is no doubt that the new orphan home will be fully completed this year, thereby filling a long-felt want. The present asylum that is retained will be repaired and put in good condition.

The price of admission has been fixed at 50 cents, and there will undoubtedly be a good attend-

The House of the Good Sherherd is too well known to need any introduction, and when it is said that the institution is badly in need of funds with which to carry on its work all that is necessary to bring forth a long list of subscriptions has been said. The giving of the lecture is to raise immediately funds that are badly needed. But even though this be well patronized there will not be sufficient money raised to meet the wants that are very apparent.

He is to speak on the subject: "The Power That Saves Men." Prof. Adler is making his annual visit to the West and spoke in Chicago last Sunday. He is making arrangements for a summer school of ethics and philosophy to be organized this year, with a large corps of prominent lecturers and instructors. The plan for this work is soon to be published. The school will probably be held either at the sea-shore, or among the mountains of Massachusetts.

The Baptist Sanitarium.

The committee of Baptists who went Eas turned yesterday and bring back with them hopes that they will soon accomplish the grand object in view in the incorporation of the Missouri Sanitarium Association. The committee consisted of Dr. A. D. Brown, Dr. W. H. Mayfield and Mr. T. B. Brown, Dr. W. H. Mayneid and Mr. T. S. Ely. The latter, in speaking of the Eastern trip, said that John Hopkins' hospital and several kindred organizations were visited, and the good points of both the construction and management noted, and the opinions of experienced people taken. The committee came back with the determination that they would erect the most substantial building possible—one of which the Baptists of the State can be proud. The association owns several acres of land at the intersection of several acres of land at the intersection of Bell and Taylor avenues, and will use this upon which to build.

"We propose," said Mr. Ely, "to build as fine a structure as it is possible to find anywhere. Not only will it be a fine structure from an outside view, but the inside work will also be of the very best. The grounds, which are spacious and easy of improvement, will be made attractive and beautiful. In fact, the trip more than determined the committee to see that nothing but a first-class building is erected. The directors will not oppose such a move, and will, I think, approve of it in fact. It is our object to begin work as soon as possible, not later than

The Archbishop's Residence.

Mr. Chas, P. Chouteau says that he thinks work on the new Archipiescopal home will be begun in the near future—not later than the lest of next month. The amounts subscribed have reached $24,500. There were 108 contributors, of whom inlety-eight have paid up in full, two settled in part and eight are still to be heard from. Out of the collections there were paid on the site some $9,600 in January, $7,000 in the early days of this month and again $5,000. There was $350 on hand. There remains only $2,550 uncollected subscriptions, of which $1,500 are promised for this week and the balance is counted on as certain.

A change has been made in the original plans. It has been concluded that the large lot purchased is not all needed, and $0 of the 180 foot frontage will be sold. It is estimated that this tract would sell for from $12,000 to $15,000, which would make a sufficient amount to begin work at once. The estimate placed upon the cost of the building has now been reduced to the very modest sum of $12,000 to $15,000. Mr. Chas. P. Chouteau says that he thinks

NO FEAR OF A PANIC.

The New York Stock Market in No Danger of a Disastrous Depression.

In reference to the financial situation in New York, Henry J. Meyer, a Wall street broker. York, Henry J. Meyer, a Wall street broker, who is at the Southern, said: "No one who is at all familiar with the status of affairs has the least fear of anything like a panic. All the conditions requisite to a disastrous fall in prices are absent. Business in commercial circles is good, there is no great amount of stock likely to be thrown upon the market, and financiers are not generally engaged in hazardous undertakings which would require large sums of money, to obtain which it would arge sums of money, to obtain which it would be necessary to sacrifice stocks and bonds.
The troubles of last year and the early part of this had the effect of causing very general liquidation, and as a result there are not nearly so many people in a position to get nearly so many people in a position to get caught as is usually the case. Therefore the recent decline in stocks has not given rise to any great degree of anxiety. The bank statements for the last two weeks have been unfavorable, but this is owing rather to the fact that a great deal of money has been sent to the interior than to an undue demand in New York. This money will come back soon, and in the meantime, there is plenty for the needs of the financial world. Some are inclined to be frightened at the disturbed condition of the foreign stock market, predicting that the fall in many scentities in England would produce the same effect in this country that the panic in Argentines did. Those who take the few of the matter fall to recognize the interest. During the panic of last are England held an immense amount accurities, and as soon as the hole were pressed for money they threw mem on the market. The English were not in a position to buy them, and they had to be disposed of in this country at a season when there was an unusual demand for money. The consequence was a disastrous break, such a break as is not possible a season when there was an unusual demand for money. The consequence was a disastrous break, such a break as is not possible now. As matters stand at present the English have gotten rid of all their superfluous American stocks and bonds, and when they require money cannot obtain it by dumping American stocks on the market. Our stocks are more generally held at home than at any time during the last fifteen years, and the manner in which such an amount of stock was taken up in this country astonished even those who were most optimistic in regard to the financial status of this country. As we are situated at present a break in the London market may cause a decline here, but there can be no panic, and no one need fear such a thing."

THE KING-POSTON TRAGEDY.

Col. H. Clay King Persists in His Refusal to Make a Statement.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., March 18.—Col. H. Clay King has refused to make any statements whatever concerning his case and all of the members of his family have taken the same position. The Bar Association meets to-day to make arrangements for the funeral of Mr. Poston. King has two chancery lawyers, but so far has been unable to secure the services of a criminal practitioner, nearly all of the lawyers asserting that they will under no circumstances take his case. Until this last affair the extent of King's unpopularity was not really known. Now it seems that he had but very few friends. He was an able man and a brave soldier, but his reserve and haughtiness repelled many persons. Poston had a good war record and a large legal practice. He was the oldest of twelve children, and the first to die. His mother still lives, and is 89 years of age. The interest or excitement in the case has increased rather than abated, and telegrams of condolence are coming from all over the State. At the hour to-day that Poston is buried, it is probable that the grand jury will return an indictment against King. There will be but little delay in this case, and the progress of the legal proceedings will be ranid. MEMPHIS, Tenn., March 18 .- Col. H. nsational Sermons of Rev. T. J. Shelton of Little Rock.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., March 13 .- This city is still worked up over the strange actions and lecture of Rev. T. J. Shelton, pastor of the First Christian Church. He has been paston of the church several years and in his congregation are some of the wealthiest and most influential citizens of the city. and most influential cilizens of the city. His sermons have been somewhat sensational of late until the board could no longer tolerate it and requested him to stop preaching. He preached his last sermon Sunday, and it produced a far greater sensation than any delivered heretofore. He asked Henry Martin and Jake Fletcher to look after his family and Fro. Brack to take care of the Christica.

delivered heretofore. He asked Henry Martin and Jake Fletcher to look after his family and Bro. Brack to take care of the Christian. Mrs. Lucy Brack, his assistant on the Christian, he said, was going away with him to Kansas City, to Denver, perhaps London or Berlin, and he might be back next Sunday, in three months or ten years. He said he had a vision and he was going to meet the man he saw in the dream and would receive orders which he and Mrs. Brack would obey. He promised to return and perform miracles. He said no one died except in thought, and wound up by telling his congregation he would never die, he was Christ the son of God. At the Brack residence yesterday Mr. Brack denied that Mrs. Brack was going or had gone with the minister, whose mind was deranged from overwork. The congregation wanted him to take a rest and had removed him from the pulpit temporarily. With this sensation comes a card to the public from the Second Christian Church, which With this sensation comes a card to the public from the Second Christian Church, which is but a branch of the First Church. The card gives the reasons for the withdrawal, and states that Rev. Shelton has been of balance for some time, as might be seen from his teachings in the Christian, in which he said he was sinless, stainless, and could do as he pleased, and that Jesus Christ was Adam, who visited the earth for having sinned in Eden. Judge McAdam Decides Against Mme Dies DeBar.

NEW YORK, March 18 .- Mme. Ann Odelie New York, March 18.—Mme. Ann Odella Letitla Diss DeBar paid a visit to the Superior Court yesterday, and when she found that Judge McAdam had handed down a decision against her on her application for an injunction to restrain her manager from compelling her to appear in tights and from posting bills representing her as Cupid attired in them, she made the biggest kind of a rumpus, and was with difficulty restrained from giving the Judge a tongue-lashing. In denying her application Judge McAdam said that there was little difficulty in arriving at a decision on the intent of the contract entered into between the parties. He says that to represent Cupid fittingly the plaintiff must dress fittingly. The spook priestess has not yet decided whether she will exhibit $25 pounds avoirdupois as the god of love, but it is probable she will.

KILRAIN AND GODFREY.

THEY FIGHT TO-NIGHT BEFORE THE CALIFORNIA ATHLETIC CLUB.

Johnny Daly Stops Six Men at Hot Springs-Jack Burke Knocked Out by Ted Pritchard-Racing, Base Ball and Other Sporting News.

Jake Kilrain and George Godfrey fight to-night before the California Athletic Club of San Francisco and with the exception of the late fizzle between LaBlanche and Young Mitchell it will be the only match that has taken place in the rooms of the club since the courts decided that the glove contests could be held there. Much interest is taken in the fight all over the country. It means a great deal to Kilrain. If he is defeated his career as a pugilist is practically at an end, for it classes him as a third or fourth rate fighter, and he will drop out of sight. He will never again be able to get on gone down before Godfrey's superior skill, and he fought Peter Jackson for twenty-seven rounds. It is alleged that he showed the white feather then before he was really whipped, although from the start he had no chance with the black Australian. Like all lighters of his color, Godfrey's gameness is questioned by the general public, but he has many admirers among white puglilists, who think he will win to-night's mill. Kilrain is ruling favorite in the betting at San Francisco at odds of $100 to $70, and nearly all the St. Louis exponents of the manly art expect to see him come out of the contest a winner. If he does not he is far from being the man he has been credited with being. Tom Kelly, all of the Daly brothers, the St. Joe Kid and Owen Maloney are all of the opinion that Kilrain will win the battle.

being. Tom Kelly, all of the Daly brothers, the St. Joe Kid and Owen Maloney are all of the opinion that Kilrain will win the battle.

PRITCHARD DEFEATS BURKE.

Ted Pritchard's easy defeat of Jack Burke last night for the middle-weight champion-ship of England, shows the former to be a remarkable fighter in his class. The battle took place at the Albany Club, Holloway road, and besides the championship was for 5500 or $2,500 a side. Dick Roberts and Dan McGannon were Pritchard's seconds, while Carney and Harper were back of Burke. George Velse was referee. Frank Slavin and Charley Mitchell were among the spectators. Pritchard was a hot favorite in the betting, and just before the fight commenced backed himself for £100. He sustained the good opinion of his friends and ended the fight in 9 minutes by knocking out Burke in the third round. In the opening round Burke countered twice with his left and landed on Pritchard's eye. Pritchard clinched. Burke was on the defensive in the second round and Pritchard did all the leading. Fritchard ied low with his left and then sent Burke to the floor by landing his right on the "Irish Lad's" mouth. Time was called just after Burke went down. In the third round Burke came up rather groggy. He made a weak lead, and Pritchard after leinting with his left struck Burke a terrific blow in the mouth with his right. The Irish Lad fell to the floor unconscious and failed to come to within the required ten seconds, so Pritchard was given the fight. The victor was strong and fresh at the finish. Burke is said to have displayed great cleverness, but his blows lacked force. This would indicate that he weakened himself in training down to the middle-weight limit. He has been fighting as a heavy weight, and when he undertook to meet Pritchard at middle-weight there were many grave doubts expressed as to his ability to train down to the middle-weight limit. He has been fighting as a heavy weight, and when he undertook to meet Pritchard at middle-weight there were many grave doubts expresse his deft was not accepted. Recently, however, Burke has been cabling from England, wanting a match with Dempsey or any other middle-weight. If Burke was as good and strong a man when he entered the ring last night as he was when in this country, then Pritchard is certainly a remarkable middle-weight fighter. He has already clearly demonstrated his superiority over every middle-weight in England except Toff Wall, and as the latter is now getting somewhat stale, it is more than probable that if they ever meet Pritchard will prove an easy winner. In fact he is probably a better fighter than. Wall was in his best day. A match between Pritchard and Fitzsimmons will probably be made now, and if it is the latter will certainly have the call in the betting in this country.

JOHNNT DALY AS A KNOCKER OUT.

Lem McGregor, the St. Joe kid, and Johnny Daly have returned from Hot Springs, where they were sojourning the past three weeks. They played an engagement of a week at the Olympic Theater in that city, McGregor offering to meet all comers and stop any man in four rounds. Johnny Daly, who is the youngest of the three Daly brothers, was to forfeit $25 if he failed to stop in four rounds any man weighing not over 140 pounds. Nobody attempted to stand up against McGregor and he went through the week without a contest. On Tuesday last, however, he fought and whipped in five rounds Coakley of Idaho, this being a match fight. The fight took place in the Grand Opera-house.

sight. He will never again be able to get on a match with the more prominent puglists, and if he does any fighting it will be for small purses or stakes with inferior men. With all this at stake the Baltimorean is bound to make the effort of his life to wing to highly a stake with order of the stand to night. It is the general opinion too that he will win, and he certainly should be able to vanquish the Boston negro. Godfrey is a pretty clever sparrer and fighter at that, but he is not a great one. He is not to be mentioned in the same breath with sullivan, slavin, Jackson and Corbett, Joe Lannon, Ed Smith and other fair men have gone down before Godfrey's superior skill, and he fought Peter Jackson for twenty-seven rounds. It is alleged that he showed the named Smith. He stopped Smith in one round. The following night he made Ben Harris of Hot Springs quit in one round. He met and stopped two men the succeeding evening—Feb. 28. First he finished Harry Finnek of Little Rock, the middleweight champion of Arkansas, in three rounds, and followed it up by stopping Dan Powers of Ft. Worth, Tex., in the same number of rounds. This closed Daly's engagement at the Olympic. He met Caffrey of Denver at Central Park on March 6, and it took just one minute and a half to knock out the Coloradoan. When McGregor fought Coakley on March 10, Daly met a big, tall, powerful negro named Ed Roberts. It was by far the hardest fight the boy had, and Daly says himself that he wasafraid for awhile that Roberts would knock him out. The negro hit him one swinging blow in the ear that came very near settling Daly, but he managed to recover from its effects and in the fourth round sent the negro out with a left-handed punch on the jaw.

Patsy Kertigan of Boston, whom John L. Sullivan wants to match against Ryan of Chicago, who recently whipped Danny Needham of St. Paul, says that if his match with Ryan falls through he will fight Johnny Daly.

The West has at last awoke to the fact that to cope with the East something must be done. It has agreed, first, that there must be a chain of meetings to extend during the entire spring, summer and fall; and second, the purses and added money to stakes must be increased to compare at least favorably with races of a like character run in the first-named section of the country. Not only has each club realised this fact, but all have met the requirements so far as increasing the value of stakes and purses are concerned, and unitedly they have about concluded on a schedule of dates of meetings which will insure racing nearly every day, except Sunday, from the opening of the spring meeting at New Orleans early in April until the cold days of dreary December. The arrangement is to let Kansas City come in after 8t. Paul and race up to the opening of the Latonia fall meeting on Aug. 3i, thus filling in a space herestofore vacant of from three to six weeks? duration. The dates now selected and the schedule should stored upon from Mem-THE TURF.

Many who saw him race last year have the impression left of a lean and scraggy animal, with a poor coat, as though that condition were part of his birthright. THE CUE.

According to the London Sporting Life, $1,000 has been posted in London for another $5,000 match in which Champion John Roberts, Jr., who recently defeated John North, agrees to concede the same great odds that he gave to concede the same great odds that he gave to North, of 12,000 in 24,000 points, to W. J. Peall, the champion at the unlimited game of English billiards. The feeling against North, who played so astonishingly weak on the last night of his match with Roberts, has not yet subsided, and it may possibly have the effect of detracting from the interest in the match with Peall, although whatever North may have done or failed to do could not properly be charged to Roberts, who has a high reputation in England for playing fair and square billiards. Roberts says he is eager for a battle with Peall. The game will bring together the masters of the two styles of English billiards. Roberts is the spot-barred champion. Peall is unrivalled at the spot-stroke game.

HOW TO TELL IT.

OU can't tell the value of clothing by the prices asked for it; you can't tell it by looking at the cloth; you can't tell it by observing the trimmings.

How, then, am I to tell? you ask.

Well, sir, by its general character and appearance, but, above all, by its perfectly filling the purpose for which it was created.

A business suit, costing twice the money, will not fill the place of a dress suit. A dress suit for a dollar wouldn't be a cheap business suit. No, sir; the value of clothing lies in purpose. Suitability to occupation, with good appearance, and to have that good appearance of long duration.
